

Local Author

TIM BANKS

Bio

Timothy Banks is a multi-talented author, artist, designer, and illustrator based in Charleston. He has collaborated with renowned companies such as Nike, Cartoon Network, Marvel, Nickelodeon, and TOWN and Paste magazines. Locally, he has contributed by creating official posters for events like Piccolo Spoleto, YALLFest, and Charleston Farmer's Market and providing illustrations for the College of Charleston and stage backdrops for the Charleston Music Hall. In 2022, he illustrated the official cover image for the Charleston Convention and Visitor Bureau's Visitor Guide. Timothy has illustrated several children's books, including "A Valentine for Frankenstein," "Nian, The Chinese New Year Dragon," "The Hiking Viking," and "Monsters In Charleston," of which he is the author and illustrator. His illustration work has been recognized by the Society of Illustrators Los Angeles and 3x3. You can find his original paintings at Grand Bohemian and Corrigan Galleries, or you can learn more about his work by visiting his website at timothybanks.com or following him on Instagram at @timbanks.'

Support Local Authors