

Linda Annas Ferguson

Linda Annas Ferguson makes her home in Charleston, South Carolina. Before becoming a novelist, she authored and published five collections of poetry and was a past Poetry Fellow for the South Carolina Arts Commission. She was also a past recipient of the Poetry Fellowship of the South Carolina Academy of Authors, a Poet-in-Residence for the Gibbes Museum of Art, and a featured writer at the Library of Congress Poetry at Noon Series. Her work has appeared in numerous anthologies, including Beyond Forgetting: Prose and Poetry About Alzheimer's Disease (Kent State University Press) and Seeking: Prose and Poetry Inspired by Art (University of South Carolina Press). Her work is archived in the Furman University Special Collections at the James B. Duke Library. (More information at LindaAnnasFerguson.com.)